

Dry Martini

Grey Goose Vodka or Tanqueray No. 10, Orange Bitters, Dry Vermouth

It was called "The most important cocktail in the world". The key to this classic is using a good gin or vodka. The dry vermouth tames the flavor of the spirit for a unforgettable finish.

Old Fashioned

Basil Hayden's Bourbon, Orange Bitter and Aromatic Bitters, Simple Syrup

The abundance of rye and spice in Basil Hayden's Bourbon is amplified by the use of two different bitters. This is an old-school cocktail but never be out of fashion, plus it has the aura of Rat Pack cool.

Vesper

Ketel One Vodka, Bombay Sapphire Gin, Lillet Blanc

The drink first appeared in Ian Fleming's 1953 novel Casino Royale when Bond asked for "Three measures of Gordon's, one of vodka, half a measure of Kina Lillet. Shake it very well until it's ice-cold then add a large thin slice of lemon peel". The script seems to be in line except for the shaken part. We beg to be stirred, since the ingredients are too delicate to be shaken.

Manhattan

Bulleit Rye Whiskey, Sweet Vermouth, Aromatic Bitters

It's essentially the definition of cocktail: "The Manhattan". Although there are many contemporary variations of this cocktail; To properly built this timeless cocktail rye whiskey must be used in the foundations - it's roots stretch back to the old Manhattan Club, in 1874 - is as close to divine perfection as a cocktail can be.

Negroni

Plymouth Gin, Campari, Sweet Vermouth

A crisp and delicious classic with notes of orange and peach in our favorite gin complemented with Campari and sweet vermouth making this most popular classic cocktail at the Aperitivo Hours in Italy, since the 1920's to present.

Blood and Sand

Chivas Regal 12 Scotch, Sweet Vermouth, Cherry Heering, Orange Juice

Named after the classic 1922 silent drama film about bullfighter Juan Gallardo played by Rudolph Valentino who makes a classic journey from poverty to fame. This is a great all season cocktail where delicate balance of proportioned ingredients are crucial for this citrus scotch cocktail.
